5.5 Order Processing

Orders shall be processed on a first-confirmed, first-served basis, subject to product availability and operational capacity.

5.6 Back Orders

Products that are temporarily unavailable may be placed on back order or substituted with the Distributor's consent, subject to availability.

5.7 Order Cancellation

The Company reserves the right to refuse, suspend, or cancel any order due to:

- Payment issues;
- Product unavailability;
- Force Majeure;
- Operational constraints;
- Violation of Company policies; or
- Other legitimate business reasons.

5.8 Shortages and Claims

Any shortage, damage, or discrepancy shall be reported within the period prescribed by the Company. Failure to report within the prescribed period may constitute acceptance of the delivery as complete and in good condition.

CHAPTER 6

DELIVERY AND LOGISTICS

6.1 Objective

This Chapter establishes the standard policies and procedures governing the delivery, receipt, transportation, and handling of Company products.

6.2 Delivery Coverage

The Company shall provide delivery services subject to its existing delivery schedules, serviceable areas, and operational capacity.

6.3 Delivery Responsibilities

Unless otherwise provided by the Company:

- a. Provincial Distributors shall pick up their orders from the Company's designated warehouse.
 - b. Provincial Distributors shall be responsible for delivering products to their assigned City Distributors and Authorized Resellers within their assigned territory.
 - c. City Distributors shall be responsible for delivering products to their assigned Authorized Resellers within their assigned territory.
 - d. Authorized Resellers shall be responsible for delivering products to their customers.

6.4 Delivery Schedule

Delivery schedules shall be communicated by the Company and may be adjusted based on:

- Volume of orders;
 - Operational requirements; and
 - Other business considerations.

6.5 Inspection Upon Pick-Up

The Distributor shall inspect all products upon pick-up from the Company's designated warehouse. The Distributor shall verify the quantity, product variants, packaging condition, expiration dates, and accompanying delivery documents before accepting the products.

6.6 Acceptance Upon Pick-Up

TASTY FOOD MANUFACTURING INC.
171 Purok 5 Brgy. Banay Banay, Amadeo, Cavite
tastyfoodmanufacturinginc@gmail.com

The Distributor's signature on the Delivery Receipt shall constitute acknowledgment that the products were received in good order and condition, unless otherwise noted at the time of pick-up.

6.7 Shortages and Damages

Any shortage, damage, or discrepancy shall be reported and documented before the Distributor leaves the Company's warehouse. Products accepted by the Distributor shall be deemed complete and in good condition unless otherwise noted on the Delivery Receipt.

6.8 Failure to Pick Up

If the Distributor fails to pick up confirmed orders within the period prescribed by the Company without prior notice, the Company may reschedule the release of the products, subject to product availability and operational requirements.

6.9 Risk of Loss

Risk of loss or damage to the products shall transfer to the Distributor upon acceptance and release of the products from the Company's designated warehouse.

6.10 Force Majeure

The Company shall not be liable for any delay or failure in the release of products due to Force Majeure events, including but not limited to natural disasters, floods, typhoons, earthquakes, government actions, transportation disruptions, labor disputes, or other events beyond the Company's reasonable control.

CHAPTER 7

INVENTORY MANAGEMENT

7.1 Storage Requirements

Distributors shall store products in a clean, dry, secure, and well-ventilated area, protected from direct sunlight, excessive heat, moisture, pests, and other conditions that may affect product quality.

7.2 Product Rotation

Distributors shall implement the First Expiry, First Out (FEFO) method to ensure that products with earlier expiration dates are sold first.

7.3 Product Handling

Products shall be handled with reasonable care during loading, unloading, transportation, storage, and display to prevent damage or contamination.

7.4 Expired Products

Distributors shall not sell, distribute, or offer expired products for sale. Expired products shall be segregated immediately and handled in accordance with Company policies and applicable laws.

7.5 Product Recall

In the event of a product recall, Distributors shall immediately suspend the sale and distribution of the affected products and comply with all recall instructions issued by the Company.

CHAPTER 8

SALES OPERATIONS

8.1 Objective

This Chapter establishes the standard operating procedures for sales development, customer management, territory expansion, and market execution by all Distributors.

8.2 Sales Territory

Distributors shall conduct sales activities only within their assigned territories unless otherwise authorized by the Company.

8.3 Customer Development

Distributors are encouraged to actively develop their assigned territories by identifying and servicing potential customers, including but not limited to:

- Supermarkets
 - Grocery Stores
 - Mini Marts
 - Convenience Stores
 - Public Markets
 - Sari-Sari Stores
 - Bakeries
 - Restaurants
 - Cafés
 - Institutional Buyers
 - Other Business Establishments

8.4 Reseller Development

Provincial and City Distributors are encouraged to recruit, develop, train, and support Authorized Resellers within their assigned territories, subject to the Company's accreditation policies.

8.5 Sales Visits

Distributors shall conduct regular sales visits to maintain customer relationships, monitor product availability, and identify opportunities for business growth.

8.6 Merchandising

Distributors shall ensure that Company products are properly displayed, kept clean, and reasonably maintained to promote product visibility and brand presentation.

8.7 Market Intelligence

Distributors are encouraged to provide the Company with relevant market information, including competitor activities, customer feedback, pricing trends, and business opportunities that may contribute to the Company's continued growth.

8.8 Ethical Selling

Distributors shall conduct all sales activities honestly, professionally, and in accordance with the Company's policies and applicable laws.

8.9 Business Development

Distributors are encouraged to continuously expand their customer base and strengthen the Company's presence within their assigned territories through lawful and ethical business practices.

CHAPTER 9

MARKETING SUPPORT

9.1 Objective

This Chapter establishes the Company's guidelines on marketing and promotional support provided to Distributors.

9.2 Marketing Support

Subject to availability and the Company's marketing programs, the Company may provide marketing support to qualified Distributors, including but not limited to:

- Marketing Collaterals
 - Tarpaulins
 - Product Brochures
 - Product Catalogs
 - Official Product Images
 - Digital Marketing Materials
 - Promotional Campaigns
 - Product Training
 - Sales Training

9.3 Promotional Programs

The Company may conduct promotional campaigns, sales incentives, discounts, and other marketing activities from time to time. Participation shall be subject to the applicable promotional mechanics.

9.4 Brand Standards

Distributors shall use only the Company's approved logos, trademarks, product images, and official marketing materials.

No marketing material shall be altered without the Company's prior written approval.

9.5 Social Media

Distributors may promote Company products through social media using accurate product information and official marketing materials provided or approved by the Company.

Distributors shall not publish false, misleading, or unauthorized claims regarding the Company's products or business.

9.6 Advertising

Any advertisement, promotional campaign, or public communication using the Company's name, brands, trademarks, or logos shall comply with the Company's branding guidelines.

9.7 Company Discretion

The nature, extent, frequency, and availability of marketing support shall be determined solely by the Company based on its marketing plans, operational requirements, and available resources.

9.8 Intellectual Property

All trademarks, logos, product labels, marketing materials, photographs, videos, and other intellectual property remain the exclusive property of the Company.

The Distributor shall immediately cease using such materials upon termination or expiration of the Distributor Agreement, unless otherwise authorized by the Company.

CHAPTER 10

DISTRIBUTOR PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

10.1 Objective

This Chapter establishes the Company's standards for evaluating the overall performance of its Distributors to promote sustainable business growth, operational excellence, and long-term partnership.

10.2 Performance Evaluation

The Company may periodically evaluate the performance of its Distributors based on applicable Key Performance Indicators (KPIs), operational compliance, market development efforts, and adherence to Company policies.

10.3 Performance Areas

Distributor performance may be evaluated based on the following areas:

- Sales Performance
- Market Development
- Operational Compliance
- Company Values

The applicable performance standards shall be prescribed in the Company's KPI Guidelines.

10.4 Performance Reviews

The Company may conduct regular performance reviews to discuss accomplishments, business opportunities, operational concerns, and areas for improvement.

10.5 Performance Improvement Program (PIP)

Where necessary, the Company may require a Distributor to undergo a Performance Improvement Program (PIP) to address operational deficiencies or improve business performance.

Participation in a PIP shall not constitute a penalty but an opportunity to improve performance.

10.6 Recognition Programs

The Company may recognize outstanding Distributors through incentive programs, awards, certificates, promotional support, or other recognition initiatives, subject to applicable Company policies.

10.7 KPI Guidelines

The Company may issue, revise, suspend, or update its KPI Guidelines from time to time through official Company Memoranda or Circulars. Such updates shall become effective upon communication to the affected Distributors.

10.8 Non-Waiver

The Company's decision not to immediately enforce any performance standard shall not constitute a waiver of its right to require compliance in the future.

CHAPTER 11

DISTRIBUTOR CODE OF CONDUCT

11.1 Objective

This Chapter establishes the standards of professional conduct and ethical business practices expected from all Distributors of the Company.

11.2 Professional Conduct

Distributors shall conduct business in a professional, honest, courteous, and respectful manner in all dealings with customers, resellers, fellow distributors, Company personnel, and the public.

11.3 Compliance with Laws

Distributors shall comply with all applicable laws, rules, regulations, and lawful Company policies in the conduct of their business.

11.4 Fair Competition

Distributors shall compete fairly and shall not engage in deceptive, fraudulent, or unethical business practices that may damage the Company, its brands, or other authorized distributors.

11.5 Brand Protection

Distributors shall protect the reputation, goodwill, trademarks, trade names, and other intellectual property of the Company and shall use them only in accordance with the Company's branding guidelines.

11.6 Confidentiality

Distributors shall keep confidential all non-public business information obtained from the Company, including pricing, business strategies, customer information, operational procedures, and other confidential materials, unless disclosure is authorized or required by law.

11.7 Conflict of Interest

Distributors shall avoid activities that create an actual or potential conflict between their personal interests and the interests of the Company and shall promptly disclose any such conflict to the Company.

11.8 Prohibited Acts

Distributors shall not:

- Make false or misleading representations about the Company or its products;
 - Use unauthorized marketing materials;
 - Sell counterfeit, altered, or expired products;
 - Misuse the Company's trademarks or intellectual property;
 - Engage in unlawful, fraudulent, or unethical business practices.

11.9 Reporting Violations

Distributors are encouraged to promptly report any suspected violations of this Manual or any unlawful or unethical conduct that may adversely affect the Company or its distribution network.

11.10 Administrative Action

Violations of this Manual or the Distributor Agreement may result in the issuance of reminders, written notices, corrective action, suspension, or other appropriate measures, without prejudice to the Company's rights under the applicable Distributor Agreement.

CHAPTER 12

CUSTOMER SERVICE STANDARDS

12.1 Objective

This Chapter establishes the minimum customer service standards to promote professionalism, customer satisfaction, and long-term business relationships.

12.2 Customer Service

Distributors shall provide courteous, professional, and timely assistance to customers in all business transactions.

12.3 Product Information

Distributors shall provide accurate and complete information regarding the Company's products, prices, promotions, and other relevant business matters.

12.4 Customer Complaints

Customer complaints shall be handled promptly, professionally, and in good faith. Where necessary, complaints involving product quality or manufacturing concerns shall be referred to the Company for appropriate evaluation.

12.5 Product Returns

Product returns, replacements, or exchanges shall be subject to the Company's Return, Replacement, and Refund Policy, as may be issued or updated from time to time.

12.6 Product Quality Concerns

Any suspected product defect, contamination, packaging issue, or food safety concern shall be reported to the Company immediately. The affected products shall not be sold or distributed until further instructions are received from the Company.

12.7 Customer Feedback

Distributors are encouraged to collect and share customer feedback with the Company to support continuous product and service improvement.

12.8 Professional Communication

Distributors shall communicate with customers in a respectful, honest, and professional manner and shall avoid making false, misleading, or unauthorized representations regarding the Company's products or business.

12.9 Customer Satisfaction

Distributors are encouraged to build long-term customer relationships by providing reliable service, maintaining product availability, and responding promptly to customer inquiries.

MANA WALLET GUIDELINES

13.1 Objective

This Chapter establishes the general guidelines governing the Company's Mana Wallet Program, which may be made available to qualified Distributors as a prepaid purchasing wallet, subject to the Company's policies.

13.2 Nature of Mana Wallet

Mana Wallet is a prepaid purchasing wallet maintained by the Company. Distributors may purchase wallet credits in advance, which may thereafter be used to pay for eligible product orders and other Company-authorized transactions.

Mana Wallet does not constitute a loan, credit facility, or extension of credit by the Company.

13.3 Wallet Credits

Distributors may purchase Mana Wallet credits through payment methods approved by the Company.

Wallet credits shall be reflected in the Distributor's Mana Wallet balance upon verification and confirmation of payment by the Company.

13.4 Use of Wallet Credits

Available Mana Wallet credits may be used to purchase Company products or for such other authorized transactions as may be determined by the Company.

Transactions shall be subject to the Distributor's available wallet balance.

13.5 Non-Transferability

Unless otherwise authorized by the Company, Mana Wallet credits shall not be transferable, assignable, exchanged for cash, or used by any person other than the registered Distributor.

13.6 Wallet Balance

Distributors are responsible for monitoring their available Mana Wallet balance before placing orders.

Orders exceeding the available wallet balance shall not be processed unless additional wallet credits are purchased or another approved payment method is used.

13.7 Company Discretion

The Company reserves the right to suspend, modify, discontinue, or update the Mana Wallet Program or any of its features, subject to applicable laws and Company policies.

13.8 Program Guidelines

The Company may issue separate Mana Wallet Guidelines, Company Memoranda, or other official issuances governing the operation of the Mana Wallet Program, including but not limited to:

- Procedures for purchasing wallet credits;
 - Payment verification and crediting of wallet balances;
 - Authorized uses of wallet credits;
 - Order processing using Mana Wallet;
 - Promotional campaigns and incentives;
 - Security measures and account protection; and
 - Other operational rules as the Company may prescribe from time to time.

13.9 No Vested Right

Participation in the Mana Wallet Program does not create any vested right or continuing entitlement. The Company may modify or discontinue the Program in accordance with applicable laws and Company policies.

13.10 Transaction Records

The Company's electronic records of Mana Wallet purchases, wallet credit balances, and transactions shall be presumed accurate unless proven otherwise. Distributors are encouraged to promptly report any discrepancies for verification and appropriate action.

CHAPTER 14

COMPANY MEMORANDA AND POLICY UPDATES

14.1 Objective

This Chapter establishes the authority of the Company to issue operational policies, guidelines, procedures, and other official issuances for the effective administration of its distribution network.

14.2 Company Memoranda

The Company may issue Company Memoranda, Circulars, Guidelines, Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs), Bulletins, Advisories, or other official issuances to supplement this Operations Manual and the applicable Distributor Agreement.

14.3 Scope of Company Issuances

Company issuances may cover, among others:

- Ordering Procedures
- Product Pricing
- Promotional Programs
- Marketing Guidelines
- Sales Incentive Programs
- KPI Guidelines
- Mana Wallet Guidelines
- Product Handling Procedures
- Customer Service Procedures
- Digital Systems and Platforms
- Administrative Forms
- Operational Procedures
- Other business and operational matters necessary for the efficient management of the distribution network

14.4 Effectivity

Unless otherwise stated, Company Memoranda and other official issuances shall take effect on the date specified therein or upon official communication to the affected Distributors.

14.5 Distributor Compliance

Distributors shall comply with all valid Company issuances that are applicable to their operations.

Failure to comply may result in appropriate administrative action under the applicable Distributor Agreement, this Operations Manual, or other Company policies.

14.6 Conflict of Provisions

In the event of any inconsistency:

1. The Distributor Agreement shall prevail over this Operations Manual.
 2. This Operations Manual shall prevail over Company Memoranda, Circulars, Guidelines, and other operational issuances.
 3. Company Memoranda shall govern only matters that are not inconsistent with the Distributor Agreement or this Operations Manual.

14.7 Amendments

The Company reserves the right to amend, revise, supplement, or repeal this Operations Manual from time to time.

Any amendment shall become effective upon official notice to the affected Distributors unless otherwise specified.

14.8 Reservation of Rights

Nothing in this Chapter shall limit the Company's right to adopt reasonable operational policies necessary for the protection of its business, brands, products, customers, and distribution network, provided such policies are consistent with applicable laws and the Distributor Agreement.
